QS/1 Now offers the Cognitive C/Rx Pharmacy Prescription Thermal Label Printer

SPARTANBURG, SC – June 5, 2007 – QS/1 has partnered with Cognitive Solutions to offer customers affordable, efficient and rugged thermal printing solutions that complement QS/1's Pharmacy Management System software.

The Cognitive C/Rx printer provides print capability on up to 4 inch wide labels at 300 dots per inch (dpi) and speeds ranging from 6-8 inches per second. The C/Rx printer produces high quality composite graphics, two dimensional bar codes and fine text. It also offers complete PCL5 compatibility for easy integration with NRx, RxCare Plus and PrimeCare QS/1 Pharmacy Management Systems. One of the benefits of the Cognitive printer is its small size, making sure pharmacy space is utilized at its optimum.

Thermal printing is a reliable and cost effective label printing technology, due to low maintenance and toner free requirements. Thermal printing is an excellent choice for printing prescription bottle labels, warning labels, shelf labels and bar code labels.

"QS/1 selected the C/Rx printer based on its industrial, rugged metal design, its comprehensive PCL emulation and its fast print and processing speeds," said Sonny Anderson, Director of Systems and Technology, QS/1.

"Cognitive is very excited about working with QS/1 to provide thermal printing solutions in the retail and institutional pharmacy space," said Raul Palacios, Cognitive's Director of Business Development. "Thermal printing technology is fast, efficient, affordable and dependable, allowing the pharmacy staff to focus on prescription processing and patient counseling."
